

Next week:

Next week we will spend some time gathering our thoughts related to this first semester's focus on "secrets" by brainstorming and combining the literature to see patterns and connections.

We also need to conference on your essays + thesis statements. I would like to meet w/each of you individually, so you will need to have a project you will be working on!