Book 5 notes:

1) Poseidon, Hermes, Calypso, Athena, Zeus, Odysseus

5) Then he hastened upon the wave
- as a sea gull does that over the terrible gulfs of the Barren Sea Dips its rapid wings, while catching fish, in the brine. Like one of these,
Hermes bore himself over many waves.

3. She "helps" Odysseus at first by promising a boat, food, and wine. Odysseus then makes her swear on the River Styx. Then Calypso shows him how to build a boat, then gives him heavy clothes so he will eventually face hardship

7. Bound up the courses of all the other winds, made them die down, stirred up a rapid north wind. "If bright-eyed Athene had not ~~put a thought~~ ^{put a thought} in his mind, if bright-eyed Athene had not given him a presence of mind, puts him to sleep & rest
