Homework and Late Work: Absolutely no late homework!

On major assignments, you will be penalized 10% per day (not class period) the assignment is submitted late.

Absence from class is not a valid excuse for not having work, readings and assignments are posted on webpage.

Plagiarism is the unauthorized use of the thoughts and words of another as your own. If you plagiarize a work, either a published piece or one that your classmate has written, you will receive a zero for the assignment and you will be written up for an honor code violation.
